U - M Booklet Tells Story Of Soo Locks

ANN ARBOR — The dramatic story of how the locks at Sault Ste. Marie were rushed to completion in 1855 is related in a booklet just published by the University of Michigan.

The 36-page booklet, written by Dr. F. Clever Bald, assistant director of the Michigan Historical Collections, is a part of the University's participation in the celebration of the centennial of the locks scheduled during 1955.

After tracing the early history of the Soo area, the booklet describes the discovery of iron ore in 1844 by William A. Burdett on the site of the present city of Negaunee. This almost immediately increased the need for ships in Lake Superior.

The rapids at Sault Ste. Marie in the St. Mary's River were a bottleneck. The need for a canal became apparent, but the U. S. Congress opposed the project until 1852 when an act was passed granting a right of way to the State of Michigan along with 750,000 acres of public land which could be given as compensation to a company which could build the canal.

At the time the bill was signed, Charles T. Harvey, western agent of the Fairbanks Scale Company of St. Johnsbury, Vermont, was in Sault Ste. Marie recuperating from an attack of typhoid fever. Harvey became interested and got his company to authorize him to proceed with plans to get favorable action by the Michigan Legislature. Harvey enlisted the aid of James F. Joy, legal counsel for the Michigan Central Railroad, and the Legislature passed an act in February, 1853, providing for a canal with locks 350 feet long and 70 feet wide.

Harvey urged the Fairbanks brothers to apply for the contract and they got other eastern capitalists to join them in the enterprise. Harvey broke ground on June 4, 1853. Problems of getting supplies to the Sault to last through the long winter, working in bitter cold and a cholera epidemic had to be met. By January 1854, the canal was open to navigation at a cost of $999,802.46. On May 31, 1855, the works were turned over to the superintendent appointed by the State of Michigan. The steamer Illinois passed through, bound for Lake Superior on June 18, 1855. Later the same day the steamer Baltimore made the passage down to Lake Huron.

Requests for single copies will be filled without charge as long as the supply lasts. The sale of the booklet in large quantities for non-educational purposes is restricted to a request for a copy concerning the booklet should be addressed to Erich A. Walter, Assistant to the President, 2552 Administration Building, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

US-27 Crash Injures Two

A near head-on crash on US-27 two miles south of Grayling early last Saturday morning sent two elderly men to Grayling Mercy Hospital with severe injuries and caused a tremendous amount of property damage.

A car driven by Charles Jasmun, 70, of Alanson crossed the centerline of the highway striking the left front fender of another car driven by William Blecken, 54, of Boyne City, according to Crawford County Sheriff John A. Papendick who investigated.

The sheriff issued a reckless driving ticket to Jasmun, who was taken to Grayling Mercy Hospital with a fractured neck as was his brother, Joseph Jasmun, 65, also of Alanson. No one was injured in the Blecken automobile to the extent that medical attention was needed.

There was much discussion on various phases of operation and it was decided to go ahead with a new garage to house the equipment. After the meeting was adjourned a nice lunch was enjoyed.

The club house will be closed for the season after this week end. The greens can be used however.

State Police Capture Two Camp Escapees

State Police from the Houghton Lake State Police Post captured two escapees from the Corrections-Conservation Honor prison camp at Hartwick Pines State Park, near St. Helen at about 8 o'clock Monday morning. The two men left the prison camp about 2 o'clock that morning.

The pair were Dick Varner, 24, and Daniel Gage, 32. The hunt centered in the St. Helen area. Gage has a girl friend there. The two escapees were captured at her home. The pair after leaving the camp circled around Grayling and made a U-turn, owned by the Atlas Plywood Company where the owner is employed as a night watchman. The car was abandoned near St. Helen and was recovered without damage.

The two escapees were returned to the Crawford County Jail by the State Police on Monday morning and were picked up and returned to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson by prison authorities on Monday afternoon.

Kiwanis Club Notes

Following the usual dinner session of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling held Monday evening at the Lone Pine Inn, the club progressed to Camp LaVieville, the newest honor camp of the Corrections-Conservation Department in the Hartwick Pines State Park area.

Sgt. Jack Smith, who is in charge at the new camp, took the club members on an inspection tour of the new installation. The trip consisted of inspection of the laundry, kitchen, cafeteria, power house, barracks, recreation room and many other points of interest at the camp. Following the tour, the club members were invited into the cafeteria for coffee and cookies. The trip proved most interesting to the members and they left to thank Sgt. Smith for his aid.

Club president Bill Joseph announced that tentatively plans are being made for the club's Annual Banquet for Monday, November 1.

The truck came to a stop inside of the office section of the building. Mr. Deyon had just finished covering the building with limestone making a very attractive structure. The complete north side of the building and about one half of the front or west side of the station will have to be rebuilt. The truck driver was taken to Grayling Mercy Hospital suffering from a broken collar bone, fractured ribs and lacerations about the head. The accident occurred, it was said, when Robarge stepped on the gas pedal of the truck instead of applying the brakes to the vehicle.

To Decide Four Proposals In November General Election Voters will elect a senator, congressman, governor and state and county officials on November 2. To many these decisions may seem the most important in 30 days of an election. The four proposals on the November 2 ballot could very well have a greater overall effect on their futures than whether or not who holds what office.

Proposal No. 1 seeks, by voter approval, to prevent disqualification of electors because of having moved within this state during 30 days next preceding an election. As the constitution now stands a voter simply loses his vote if he happens to move within 30 days of an election. The amendment provides for the voter who moves by allowing him to file an affidavit with the election board from whence he moved and vote in person or in the same way as any other absent voter.

Proposal No. 2 would amend the state constitution relative to the way sales tax is distributed. The proposal is seeking to put the state on a better fiscal basis by distributing sales tax on collections of the current year. The proposal provides no change in the one-sixth share of sales tax to local governments except for a few cities having state penal or mental institutions. These cities will get the one-sixth share on the basis of one-half the number of the persons in institution. The amendment also provides that two cents out of every dollar of sales tax collected, after collection is subtracted, be allocated to schools by the state. The proposal separates the state fund from the state general fund. The same way highway funds are now separate. A significant part of the state levy is the limitation of the state levy to 3%.

"Korean War" Bonuses Proposal No. 3 seeks permission for the state to bond $80,000,000 for "Korean War" bonuses. This proposal is for the $250,000,000 bonus paid to veterans approved by the War Relocation Authority. The War II bonus bonds were paid by the 3c a pack cigarette which yields 15 - 20 a year the present proposal has no special tax to retire bonds.

Legal Bingo Proposal No. 4 would allow legislature to authorize lotteries or raffles or other non-profit charitable organizations; for example, to legalize an American football game, a baseball league, etc. As the constitution stands, the legislature is not allowed to authorize any lotteries, raffles or bingo games. The amendment would allow the legislature to authorize any lottery, raffle or bingo game, wide open in one county strictly prohibited in a neighboring county.

Teen Aged Injured In Noon Crash

Two teen aged, both students at Grayling High School, were injured in a traffic accident at the corner of Michigan Avenue and Peninsular Street at noon Tuesday.

Larry H. Kolka, 16, and Laura Cupps, 17, both of Grayling, were both taken to Grayling Mercy Hospital by Sorenson's ambulance following a collision with three parked cars. Kolka who was driving the car, according to Grayling Police Chief Harold Hatfield Jr., was charged with reckless driving.

Kolka was headed south on Peninsular and attempted a right turn onto Michigan Avenue. Chief Hatfield who was assisted in the investigation by Officer Jack Hout reported that Kolka failed to stop at the intersection sign, was traveling an excessive speed and had lost control of his vehicle. Kolka will appear on the charge in Probate Court before Judge Robert F. Neafie as he is a minor.

The careening automobile first crashed into a car owned by Donald P. Thompson of Grayling and then into a station wagon owned by June E. Feldhauser, of Star Route, Grayling. Both of these cars were parked in the middle of Michigan Avenue. The Kolka vehicle then skidded to the north side of Michigan Avenue where it damaged an automobile owned by Paul E. Schmidt of Grand Rapids.

Kolka suffered minor lacerations and bruises. Miss Cupps was badly shaken up and bruised. In that the accident occurred during the noon hour, a large crowd of spectators witnessed the collision.

Hundreds of dollars of property damage resulted from the four car collision. Police Chief Hatfield said. He added that Kolka had no insurance.

Poster Sparks Fire Prevention

"Let's grow up - not burn up" is the slogan on the official poster for Fire Prevention Week, proclaimed by President Eisenhower for Oct. 3-9. The idea is that all Americans must for their own sake take common sense precautions to eliminate fire hazards.

Little Doubt That National Guard Eased Accident Toll

Latest Figures Leave Little Doubt that National Guardsmen performed a valuable public service when they joined hands with local and state police departments to patrol streets and highways during the Labor Day weekend.
The record is now accumulated and speaks for itself.

Under the plan 682 volunteer guardsmen offered to help from Friday to Tuesday morning. Of these 51 were assigned to cities, villages and townships; 156 to sheriffs department. The balance worked with Michigan State Police.

Guardsmen, who received a daily pay allowance according to rank and expenses, worked the same shift as police officers.

State Police totals show that trunklines, where 20 people were killed last year in 14 accidents, had only four deaths in four accidents this year. Of the four killed this year, two were in an isolated area in the Upper Peninsula.

None of the fatal collisions occured in the most heavily policed areas known as the "29 highaccident sections."

The 22 killed in 1954 compares with the 31 killed in 1953. It looks more impressive when compared with average highway death during the summer of 1953 - 23.3 dead people per each Friday through Sunday. The Labor Day weekend total was slightly lower and included an additional 24 hour period.

Nearly twice as many arrests were made for violation of highway regulations. In 1953 there were 2,802 drivers ticketed. This weekend 5,209 violators had reason to wish they had been more careful. This increase of 2,407 resulted from the higher number of police officers and from a policy in force since spring that called for more arresting as well as cautioning of traffic violators.

Violations during the Labor Day period fell into the same pattern of percentages as other periods: 46% speeding; 15% disregarding stop signs or signals; 10% driving on wrong side of road; 7% improper passing; 5% drunk.

Not one adverse criticism reached state police headquarters.
Questionnaires sent to sheriffs were returned with glowing compliments. One sheriff from a sparsely populated county pointed out gratefully that his force without guardsmen would have consisted of himself and one deputy.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, was also warm in his comments. He explained that use of guardsmen permitted twice as many state police cars at night.
Troopers patrol in pairs after dark. A guardsman could act as the second officer.

During the day, when troopers work alone, the second man increased efficiency because only one car needed to be called to a collision. Since it takes two officers to handle an accident, two cars are summoned in usual procedure.

"Our experience with the National Guard was good," said the Commissioner. "They stayed on the job, worked about 10 hours per shift and didn't complain."

Interesting Angle to Campaigning, now in full force, is the tendency of Governor Williams to give Highway Commission Charles M. Ziegler a hard time. Ziegler, who was also elected by the people of Michigan, is not a candidate for anything right now. His term does not expire for three years.

Requests for special reports by the chief administrative official keep the highway staff busy. Ziegler is in a delicate position regarding the governor's request for information. Accumulating the facts takes staff people off other important duties; costs money that wouldn't need to be spent otherwise. In addition, the Commissioner seems a little suspicious that about the governor's motives. He appears to worry that Williams is applying pressure for reports because of political reasons rather than an actual desire for knowledge.

Answer to the latest such request was sent in a letter to the governor. The first paragraph read:
"This will acknowledge your letter of September 15, in which you request an enormous amount of detailed information and maps to supplement reports which I have previously made in complete accordance with the provisions of Act 51, P. A. of 1951."

Other sentences describes the busy activity in the department.
The letter ends with a reference to a report now being accumulated and the curt information that it will be ready for the 1955 Legislature.

More Sales Tax Per Person is collected from Michigan residents than from any other state except Wyoming according to Louis M.
Nims, State Revenue Commissioner. In 1953-54 Michigan people paid an average of $42.21 each.
The per capita rate for Wyoming is $23.98, only 77c higher than the Wolverine state.

In 27 states which have sales tax, the average collection per person averaged to $28.58. California was third with $38.04.
Nims said Michigan's rate is higher because the state's income is very high, the tax base is very broad, and his department works very hard to collect it.

Sales tax income for August increased over previous months for the first time in many months reported Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner.
Collections for July business amounted to $23,538,551. This is $105,000 above July, 1954.

Most People Killed by Fire Die in Their Own Homes

Home fires kill more people than all other fires combined, says the National Fire Protection Association. During Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3-9, the NFPA urges oil members of every family to learn how to combat the six main fire causes. These six are responsible for more than 85 percent of all home fires:

1-Smoking and careless handling of matches. Put out cigarettes and matches carefully before throwing them away.

2-Dirty and poorly maintained chimneys and heating equipment.
A house can catch fire if a dirty chimney shoots sparks onto flammable roofing material. Portable oil heaters and kerosene stoves should not be placed where they might block an exit or where they might easily be tipped over.

3-Defective wiring and overloaded electric circuits. All wiring should be installed by a qualified electrician. Use only 15-ampere fuses unless the circuit is specially wired for larger loads.

4-Hot ashes and coals. Keep them in covered metal containers.
Keep the area near a furnace free of combustible materials.

5-Trash accumulation. Remove rubbish regularly from the house, particularly from the cellar, attic, and closets.

6-Inproper handling of gasoline and kerosene and use of flammable liquids for home dry-cleaning and paint removing.

The NFPA stresses the importance of making children fire safety-conscious from the earliest years.

The association advises, "Teach them from two years on to distinguish between the right and wrong uses of fire."

"Let them help you with various fire-making activities, such as burning leaves and trash. This will satisfy, in a constructive way, their natural curiosity about fire.
Explain to them what you are doing each time you exercise your own common sense in regard to fire safety."

New Deer Seal

Michigan deer hunters will be introduced this year to a new style of license seal that is more foolproof and compact than the old type. At left in this conservation department comparison photo are five of the old-style ball-shaped seals; at right, and occupying about the same amount of room, are 20 of the new style seals. Hunters will receive the new seals, as usual, when they purchase their licenses this fall.

"Blind Man's" Bluff

You know how Handy Turner down at the hardware store goes in for weird advertising stunts.
Well, when it came to plugging his new Venetian blind department, his enthusiasm nearly landed him in trouble.

Handy painted a warning on the tailboard of his truck: "Caution-blind man driving."
"Had driven about a mile," Handy says, "when a state trooper stopped me and told me that sign might cause trouble. Guess he was right. From now on I'll advertise in the Clarion."

From where I sit, I agree-the highway is no place for jokes. We all ought to be considerate of the other fellow when we're driving.
In fact, let's respect our neighbor's right of way always. Then, when we have differences of opinion-say about the best route to Centerville, or whether beer or buttermilk is better with lunch-there will be less chance of anybody developing any "blind" spots.

Not Conquered - But Fading . . .

Ben Franklin said pride is one of our worst enemies. Even when you are humble, he added, you find yourself being proud of it. We're reminded of this Franklinism by a note arriving at the Crawford County Avalanche today from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. The association warns against over-optimism in our war against TB. Not that there isn't room for encouragement in the TB picture today. Deaths from the disease fell to an all-time low of 607 in Michigan last year. We have facilities to fight TB which were in the dream-stage just a few years ago. However, the gains made don't mean we can puff our egos to the point of imagining that we've conquered TB. That would be succumbing to the kind of pride old Ben warned us against. Tuberculosis is still a home-wrecker — rolling up a toll of from 5,500 to 6,000 new cases each year in Michigan. The disease is costing Michigan more than eighteen million dollars annually. There is no easy cure and vaccine. Even these few facts clearly caution against hinting that TB is sagging on the ropes, about to be knocked out. It just isn't true. So let's be humble about our progress against the disease. Let's keep fighting.

This Is Our Birthday . . .

This issue marks the first in our eleventh year as editors and publishers of the Crawford County Avalanche. It was on October 1, 1944 that we took over the reins of this County's newspaper in the midst of World War II.

We feel that the Avalanche has shown steady, if slow, improvement and we have several more changes and additions in mind which we hope in the future to innovate.

Grayling and Crawford County has been very good to us and we are happier every day that we made the decision to purchase the Avalanche and move here rather than to one of two southern Michigan towns which we were looking over at the time.

Ten years is a decade and in that time one member of our family has completed her schooling in the local schools and was married here. We have built a comfortable home in the community and expect to be members of it for many years.

We have made many friends (and a few enemies, we suppose) in the ten years that we have lived here. As we said before we are happy we picked Grayling and we call it our home town with pride. — R. W. S.

HOUSEWIVES GO for OIL HEAT

For a modern fully-automatic heating fuel, America's homemakers prefer oil

First of all, oil heat is clean heat . . . keeps the housework down, and indoor air warm and healthier for all.

What's more, oil heat is uniform, dependable, weather-proof heat . . . always at peak efficiency regardless of outdoor temperatures.

Safety is another important feature of this fully-automatic fuel. It burns only when atomized and properly mixed with air.

Oil can reach you wherever you live—and you have your choice of independent suppliers for America's most popular home-heating fuel.

NEW GADGETS FOR THE HUNTER

The ranks of the hunting fraternity fortunately include a generous sprinkling of the inventive type of personality... and just prior to the opening of the hunting season every fall numerous new devices appear to ease and abet the lives of the outdoorsmen.

The 1954 crop of inventions in this category are as ingenious as ever, we're happy to report, and here are a few details as to their purpose.

Fiberglass Important

The tremendous insulating quality of fiberglass wins this product a place in the manufacture of hunting clothing this season. Extraordinarily light vests, some camouflaged for bow hunters, and all well stuffed with fiberglass are on the market, priced at less than $5.00!

Another enterprising Michigan manufacturer is introducing a deer-hunter's coat insulated with fiberglass, and reinforced with bullet-resistant material in strategic and vulnerable places!

Retractable Seats

A Mount Clemens manufacturer is out with a red canvas pad about 12" x 18" filled with kapok. It is slung over the hunter's shoulders with light elastic suspenders which normally hold the pad in the small of the back as added warmth. When the hunter wants to sit down on a stump, or even wet ground, he pulls the pad under his seat—it stretches there easily thanks to the elastic—and presto! You're warm, dry and comfortable in the right places!

Late Fishing Item

A late season fishing gadget is available, too—called a Minnow Pump. It's a little metal fan with a clamp for attaching to the outside of your car window. A small plastic hose runs in thru the ventilating window and down into your minnow bucket. When the car is moving, air turns the fan and air is pumped into the minnow bucket to keep your precious bait alive for a long road trip.

Game Belt

In Southern Michigan particularly opening days in the duck marsh or pheasant field may be very warm—much too warm for ordinary hunting jackets. There's a game belt on the market for just such weather. It holds ten shot gun shells, and comes with 4 snap clips and 4 good-sized plastic game bags which attach to the clips. For the shirt-sleeve hunter it's just the ticket in Michigan Outdoors!

ing for true deliciousness: bean, clam chowder, chicken-riced, chicken noodle or green pea.

Chili con carne makes a good hearty supper. To dress it like new, bake corn bread in an oiled ring mold, and serve chili in the center.

Soak your dried herbs in milk and then add them to your meat ball recipe for a savory treat.

When the man of the house is hungry for a super sandwich, cover thick slices of bread with ham, spread with chili sauce and top with a slice of processed American cheese. Broil until cheese browns to a golden color.

Fruit juices make a wonderful appetizer. Simply chill the cans, pour the juice into glasses and top with a spoonful of sherbet.

Fold some cooked, chopped prunes into your favorite spice cake mix. The cake is wonderful frosted with chocolate or creamy lemon frosting.

To Improve Manistee River

Watershed improvement work was approved by the Conservation commission this past week on the Upper Manistee River in Antrim, Otsego, Crawford- and Kalkaska counties. State workers estimate it will take about one season and $32,000 to complete initial construction of the project.

Michigan fishermen gained access to another lake this month when the Conservation commission authorized purchase of a fishing site on Big Bass Lake in Otsego County.

To date, anglers have obtained access to about 600 lakes and streams in the state under the public fishing site program.

In addition, the commission approved purchase of 509 acres of game lands in six state game areas under the Pittman-Robertson program. Forty acres of land in Southeastern Michigan's Ortonville project and 10 platted lots in Higgins Lake state park also were authorized for purchase.

A progress report of fish management problems on Hamlin Lake in Mason county was discussed and a weir on the East Branch of the Au Gres, seriously damaged by floods, was ordered abandoned.
